

Community Health Statistics Unit

The community health statistics unit's services are available to:

- Local health professionals
- County regional staff
- Community-based organizations
- Students
- The general public

What type of data and statistics can be provided?

We provide health statistics that describe health behaviors, diseases and injuries for specific populations, health trends and comparisons to national targets using local, state, and national statistics.

You can schedule a consultation!

We can advise you on what data is available for different health topics and offer recommendations on the best way to use and present the data, whether you are writing a grant, presenting at a conference, or writing a report for school.
